I have a Century 125GL as well. I have everything but the hose adaptor. Where did you purchase your Clarke kit? I'm hoping I can just buy the adaptor somewhere but I'll get the kit if I have to. Also, what size wire are you using? I tried 0.030 with my Craftsman 85 Amp and I'm having trouble. It doesnt seem to have enough amperage.

I have a century 125 MIG welder, I have had it for 10 years it is in good shape and not worn out I have never been able to get it to weld right so I usually just use my Hobart Tigmate. it will do up to 16 gauge sheet metal pretty good For a short period of time and sometimes it will weld thicker material for a few minutes but it just starts popping and no matter how I adjust it it wont weld right.
